Home Security: Everything About Securing Your Home

Synopsis

It has been reported that a burglary now happens every 15 seconds. As such, the chances of your own home actually being at risk from a break in are greatly increased, and it does not matter where you live. However, when people think of a break in, they think of someone gaining entry in to their home through breaking some glass or smashing down doors. Yet there are certain things which could actually extend an invitation to those unwanted intruders to make an attempt at getting into your home. Get all the info you need here.

Customer Reviews

I'm sorry, but I could not read this book beyond the first few pages. The information was quite obvious. Perhaps it goes deeper into the "hows" and "wheres" of security if you turn more pages than I did, but I couldn't continue reading because of such incorrect grammar. This author should consider a new editor.

I could barely understand this book! Is "hair" a new security term? I just don't get it. Sorry. Did anyone proof read this?

I would not recommend this book even if it is free. Author does not have good command of English so you must also translate.
