Customer Reviews

Linda Edward is a doll researcher and the curator of The Doll Museum in Portsmouth, RI. Her past experience includes being editor of Doll News, the magazine published for UFDC members. Her museum collection encompasses dolls from the 18th century to the present, including antique and modern play dolls, artist pieces, and fashion dolls.

I bought this book for the pictures not for the information. My interest in this was for the skin tones and old costumes on the dolls as a guide for painting more life like pictures. That being said, their aren't many more pictures of the dolls than what you see in reviews. I don't collect dolls so I'm afraid that this review is slanted towards art rather than towards what you would actually buy the book for.

Great reference book for doll collectors.

Good book, great information

As a doll collector I enjoy reading about and keeping up with the latest dolls and doll values. This book is a valuable tool and allows me to locate and identify dolls quickly and easily.

great information

I have used this book for years. It is a very valuable tool in identifying dolls. It is easy to read and follow. I definitely recommend.

I was most disappointed in this book. After using Jan Foulke's books for years thought this would be similar. It is not. Jan Foulke's books had dolls listed in much more friendly user categories. Linda Edward should take a lesson from Jan. Trying to find dolls in Ms. Edward's book is like walking in a maze and not all categories are included. I would not buy another of her books.
